Newnham on Severn, 2003. Sixteen volumes. 8vo. Folding frontispiece, 5 plates (1 folding), and other text illustrations. A complete set of fifteen volumes of Britcher's scores, each bound in wrappers. The commentary volume is bound in cloth. Preserved in a handsome custom-made quarter morocco drop-back box, in a cloth slipcase. Good condition.

LIMITED EDITION OF 212 numbered sets, SIGNED BY TIM RICE (then President of MCC).

Britcher's scores of matches was first published in 1790, containing scores of principal matches played in that year. It was then published annually until 1803. A final edition was published in 1806, with scores of the principal matches played in 1804 and 1805.

This was the first-ever cricket annual, and lists full scores of the principal matches played each year, not just in London but over the country.

The original editions are very rare, and the only complete set of original editions is held in the MCC Library at Lord's.

This set of facsimile reprints of all fifteen editions is accompanied by a lengthy commentary on each edition, specially written by David Rayvern Allen.

Much original research has gone into this commentary, which includes details of many of the players of the day, notes on each match, and details of where each original edition was held.

Bowen, Cricketer Quarterly, Vol 8, (1970): 'Britcher must be quite one of the rarest cricket annuals of all...and we believe we would be absolutely safe in asserting that of the fifteen issues (which covered sixteen seasons, and were issued over seventeen years) no more than fifty copies at the very outside still exist.'

Taylor, Catalogue of Cricket Literature, 1906: It is doubtful whether a complete run will ever be collected. Under the hammer such a set would undoubtedly realise £50.'

See Padwick 869.

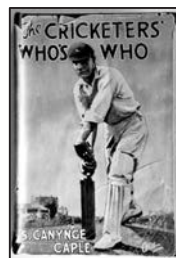

(This set of facsimile reprints was published in 2003 at £450). (Illustrated on the front cover) £200.00

NEW SOUTH WALES CRICKET ASSOCIATION YEAR BOOKS

New South Wales Cricket Association Yearbook was first published covering the 1927-28 Australian season.

Subsequent volumes contain details of each Australian cricket season, with scores and averages of first-class and country cricket.

Swanton, World of Cricket, 1966: 'The main Australian reference annual of modern times is 'The N.S.W. Cricket Year Book', which, with the issue dated 1927-28, began its coverage of the main play there and gradually extended its national character. It has had some breaks, due to war, but the next copy made good the backlog each time...'
